

Sandor Kerpel-Fronius

Professor of Clinical Pharmacology
Semmelweis University
Department of Pharmacology and Pharmacotherapy
Budapest, Hungary

Curriculum Vitae

Dr. Kerpel-Fronius was born in Budapest, Hungary, November 4, 1940. He obtained medical diploma at the Semmelweis University in 1964. At the same university he received board certificates in Clinical Laboratory Sciences and Clinical Pharmacology in 1977 and 1980, respectively. From 1964 to 1975 he worked in neurobiology at the Semmelweis University. In 1967-68 he was a research fellow at the Karolinska Institute, Stockholm and 1972 to 1974 a Sloan Fellow at the Maryland Psychiatric Research Center in the US. From 1975 to 1989 he led a clinical pharmacologic research group at the National Institute of Oncology in Hungary. In 1988 he spent a sabbatical year at the Cancer Center of the Wayne State University, Detroit, US. 1989-2001 he worked in clinical drug development within the international pharmaceutical industry. In 2001 he became Professor of Clinical Pharmacology at the Department of Pharmacology and Pharmacotherapy of the Semmelweis University. He was the General Director of the Hungarian National Institute of Pharmacy (Hungarian Drug Regulatory Agency) in 2002. Presently he is retired but continues to teach clinical pharmacology as Senior Scientific Advisor at the Semmelweis University. In addition, he participates as lecturer of medicines development at several international courses. Honors and Committee memberships: Member of the St Steven Academy of Sciences, Hungary. Chairman of the Natural Sciences Section (2001-); Executive Board of the IMI-PharmaTrain (2008-); IFAPP Board of Officers & Head of the IFAPP Working Group on Ethics (2014); IFAPP ACADEMY INC. lecturer and member of the Steering Committee (2016-); (2016); Honorary Fellow of the Faculty of Pharmaceutical Medicine of the Royal College of Physicians of the United Kingdom (FFPM, 2016); Educational Subcommittee of the EACPT (resigned in 2015);

Budapest, 2018.